Health & Life Coaching: Getting it all together and living your “Best Life”

I have combined my skills as a healer with Coaching so that I can be more effective. Coaching is supportive in bringing about change and I use it in combination with my other therapies.

Birth charts are about possibilities, your own ingredients; coaching helps you to find solutions through growing awareness and raising aspirations. It enables you to manage your own energies to your best advantage in a seamless way, Coaching is client orientated; the client is in charge and defines the work areas which need attention and with the application of some strategic processes you can be living your “Best Life”!

Astrology highlights where the search will be most fruitful and coaching will channel heightened self esteem and remove you from the traps of habitual and instinctive patterns. The motivation for change can be activated by enhancing the focus on balance and achieving goals. Coaching encourages us to optimise the cycles of growth highlighted by astrology.

I am sure you will be very satisfied with your consultation and will benefit greatly from my help and guidance. An initial, in depth consultation is normally two hours, followed by hourly consultations as needed.
